1. Background information

In Finland, the Programme of Prime Minister Sanna Marin's Government states that TCN Students will be issued a residence permit for the full period of their studies. The Programme also states that the validity of the residence permit for the purpose of job-searching or entrepreneurship will be extended to two years. At the moment the residence permit for studies is issued for up to two years, and the residence permit for job-searching or entrepreneurship is granted for one year. Finland has implemented the directive (EU) 2016/801.

The synthesis report of the 2018 EMN study on Attracting and retaining international students in the EU covers the period 2013-2017 for statistics and 2012-2018 for policy developments. This ad hoc -query will gather detailed and up-to-date information on some issues discussed in the report.

Due to the structure of the questions, this ad hoc -query will be counted as two ad hoc -queries.

2. Questions

1. What is the maximum validity period of first residence permit issued for international students in your Member State?

2. Can a first residence permit be issued for the full period of studies (if the studies take, for example, three to six years)? (YES/NO)

Available choices: Yes, No

3. If the answer is YES to question 2, does your Member State require proof of adequate financial resources for the full period of time? (YES/NO) If you answer YES, please indicate what is the amount required and by which means such proof of financial resources is proven. If you answer NO, how will the subsistence of the TCN student be secured?

4. If your Member State issues a residence permit for the full period of the studies and requires proof of financial resources for the full period, do most of the applicants usually satisfy the financial requirements or very few of the students?

5. What is the maximum validity period for the residence permit issued for the purpose of job-searching or entrepreneurship after the completion of the studies?

6. What is required as a proof of adequate financial resources when issuing a residence permit for the purpose of job-searching or entrepreneurship after completing studies?

7. Does your Member State keep records/statistics of international students staying legally after the completion of their studies? YES/NO. If YES, can you please provide the three main reasons of international students for staying in your MS?

We would very much appreciate your responses by 4 June 2021.

			remuneration for work, parental benefits, unemployment benefits, income received from lawful business activities or property, pensions, scholarships, means of subsistence, benefits paid by a foreign state and the subsistence ensured by family members earning legal income are deemed to be legal income for the purposes of this Act unless otherwise provided for by this Act. Additionally Article § 1681 of the Aliens Act stipulated that the requirement of sufficient legal income for the issue of a residence permit for study, for holding and extension thereof may also be complied with the income not specified in Article 9 of Aliens Act. Hence, also other proof of legal income are accepted. The sufficient income for subsistence that the student has to demonstrate in Estonia is double the subsistence level. For 2021 the sufficient level of income is 300 euros per month for the student. 4. TCN students declare that they have sufficient legal income to live in Estonia by signing the residence permit application. They are not automatically required to provide proof of it but caseworker might ask for evidence of it. 5. According to the Aliens Act the TCN student has the right to stay in Estonia within the following 270 days as of the day of expiry of the period of validity of the temporary residence permit issued for studying if the period of validity of the residence permit of the TCN terminated on the date of expiry. An additional residence permit is not issued to the TCN. 6. Estonia does not issue residence permits for job-searching but the TCN student is allowed to stay in Estonia for 270 days after the end of residence permit in order to search for a job. Typically students apply for a residence permit to work in Estonia after studies and in this case, there is no proof of financial resources required, since they will receive a salary. If student would like to apply for a residence permit to start a business in Estonia, then they would firstly need to be able to make an investment and also prove financial resources.

			7. Three main reasons is that they apply for a temporary residence permit to work, to settle or to join a spouse.
	EMN NCP Finland	Yes	1. Pursuant to Section 7 of the Act on the Conditions of Entry and Stay of Third-country Nationals on the Grounds of Research, Studies, Training and Voluntary Service (719/2018), a residence permit is issued as a temporary permit valid for two years, unless applied for a shorter period. However, the residence permit is only valid for the duration of studies, if studies take less than two years. Issuing a residence permit requires that the student has secure means of support as stipulated by Section 39 of the Aliens Act (301/2004). If an applicant applies for a Finnish residence permit for the purpose of studying, the applicant is required to have sufficient resources for the intended duration of the stay to provide means of support and cover the cost of return travel. As a rule, when applying for a first residence permit for one year, students are required to have €6,720 in available funds. As a rule, issuing a permit for the purpose of studying for a period of two years requires the applicant to have access to at least €13,440. The applicant is required to present a bank statement in their own name as evidence of secure means of support during their studies. Any scholarships and grants received by the student are taken into account in assessing the fulfilment of the requirement for means of support by deducting their amounts from the sum of other funds required. The student's means of support may be fully or partly secured by a scholarship or grant from the Finnish state, the applicant's home country, the hosting institution in Finland or the sending institution. In such cases, reliable evidence of the scholarship or grant must be provided. Benefits offered to the student by the education institution, such as free accommodation or meals, are also taken into account in assessing the fulfilment of the requirement for means of support. 2. No

			in order to pursue higher education. The VLS/TS visa does not require a residence permit for the first year. If the holder wishes to stay in France longer than the validity of the visa, they must apply for a residence permit at the prefecture within 2 to 3 months before the expiration of the VLS/TS visa. Foreign nationals who can prove that they are studying in France and have sufficient financial resources and who did not enter France with a long-stay visa equivalent to a residence permit may be issued a temporary residence permit as "student" for a period of up to one year (Articles L. 422-1 and L. 422-2 of the Code on Entry and Residence of Foreign nationals and Right of Asylum, CESEDA). After one year of presence in France under a long-stay visa equivalent to a residence permit (VLS-TS) or a temporary student residence permit, provided that the conditions set out in the CESEDA are met (financial resources, course attendance, exam results, diploma obtained, etc.), the foreign student may receive a multiannual student residence permit, which is valid for a maximum of four years. Its duration is equal to the number of years remaining in the studying program in which the student is registered. In addition, a foreign national who has been admitted to reside in another European Union Member State and is enrolled in a mobility program in accordance with Directive (EU) 2016/801 may reside in France, after notification of their mobility to the competent administrative authorities, for a maximum period of twelve months, in order to carry out part of their studies in a higher education institution (L. 422-4 of the CESEDA) Foreign students who are part of a European Union program, a multilateral program involving mobility measures in one or more European Union Member States, or an agreement between at least two higher education establishments located in at least two European Union Member States, are issued a "student-mobility program" temporary residence permit for a period of up to one year, which is renewable (Article L. 422-5 of the CESEDA).

			In addition, foreign students who are part of one of these programs are issued a "student-mobility program" multiannual residence permit when they are first admitted to the country. The duration of the card is equivalent to the duration of the program or agreement, which cannot be less than two years (Article L. 422-6 of the CESEDA). 2. No 3. No. For each residence permit application (first application and renewal) the foreign student must justify sufficient financial resources for existence, corresponding at least to the level of the basic monthly maintenance grant paid to students with grants from the French Government, i.e. €615/month (Article R. 422-8 of the CESEDA). The type of resources that can be presented by the student is not specified by the CESEDA, the applicant's own resources (including grants) or resources drawn from any activity can be taken into account. Consequently, the student can provide all the documents in his possession: bank statements of regular transfers or sufficient credit balance, or, in the case of resources provided by a third party, bank statement of the programming of regular transfers or sworn statement of payment of the sums allowing to reach the required amount; pay slips; scholarship certificate of the paying organization of the country of origin specifying the amount and the duration of the scholarship. 4. For the first year of the residence permit's validity, the prefectures in charge of issuing the residence permit ensure that the student can prove the monthly financial resources requested. For the following years, their control focuses on the permanent nature of the financial resources that the foreign national can prove (bank payments, secondary work, certificates from third parties, etc.).

			The targeted, random and a posteriori departmental control plan of “student” multiannual residence permits allows prefectures to check whether the person concerned still meets the conditions for issuing this permit during the period of validity of the permit, particularly with regard to foreign national’s financial resources, attendance and results. 5. The « job seeker /company creation » residence permit is valid for 1 year and is not renewable. 6. 	EMN NCP Germany	Yes	1. For the purpose of studying (temporary) a residence permit for international students is issued according to the German Residence Act for at least one year and should not be issued for more than two years. Furthermore, the maximum validity for the first time residence permit is at least two years if a foreigner participates in an EU or multilateral programme with mobility measures or if an agreement between two or more higher education institutions applies to him/her as stipulated in Section 16b (2)(2) of the German Residence Act. However, if studies are not completed within this time frame, an application for extension of the residence permit in this regard can be made as stated in Section 16b (2) of the German Residence Act. The extension depends on whether the objective of the study and therefore the purpose of the extension of the residence permit can still be achieved in a reasonable period of time. 2. No 3. All students must prove that they have an approved minimum financial capacity to study and live in Germany. In more detail, according to section 5(1)(1) of the German Residence Act, all Third Country Nationals must as one of the conditions for obtaining a residence permit for study purposes show proof of secured financial resources when applying to study and live in Germany. This financial requirement must be met by all prospective international students when applying for visa and during the stay in Germany to study. There are approved and acceptable ways of funding which include setting up a blocked account bearing the recipient's name ("Sperrkonto") in Germany with at least a current minimum of 10, 332 Euros per year corresponding to 861 Euros per month (this amount is regularly adjusted according to increases reflected in the German Federal Training Assistance

Another way of securing subsistence is through scholarship which can be provided by private or public institutions, government or from private individual sponsorship and which must be evidently verified. 4. n/a 5. After the completion of an academic education, a Third Country National may, as stipulated in Section 20(3) No 1 of the German Residence Act, obtain a residence permit for up to 18 months for job searching purposes in Germany. The prerequisite is that academic studies have successfully been completed in Germany. For entrepreneurship, the maximum period of a residence title issued to Third Country Nationals who have successfully finished their academic studies is three years, Section 21(2a) of the German Residence Act. After this time, a permanent residence title may be achieved, Section 21 (4) German Residence Act. 6. According to general rules, in both cases proof of being able to secure one’s livelihood must be presented. Proof of it may be presented by regular income and/or a blocked bank account or a certified Declaration of Commitment (“Verpflichtungserklärung”). During this time, the graduate is allowed to work. The amount which has to be covered is not stipulated in the law, but it must be enough to secure that, with small exceptions, no government means will be needed. Therefore, the amount which has to be secured is in general about 750 EUR plus rent for a single person with an employment contract (which covers health insurance) or 450 EUR plus rent plus health insurance without a contract. 7. Yes, based on the German Federal Office for Migration and Refugees (BAMF) in 2013 a graduate study survey results which focused on persons who had previously studied and subsequently stayed in Germany, the satisfaction with life in Germany plays a significant role and influence on intentions to stay after successful academic studies. From a scale 0 - 6 rating, where 6 is the highest and 0 the lowest, the more important factors are job-related

	EMN NCP Slovenia	Yes	1. A temporary residence permit for study purposes shall be issued for the duration of the studies, but for not more than one year. If the studies last longer than one year, the permit shall be extended on an annual basis, but for not more than one year. 2. No 3. In order to issue the first temporary residence permit or to renew a residence permit for study purposes, the student may prove the fulfilment of the condition of sufficient means of subsistence, by assets earned through work, by labour or insurance rights (except by reimbursement of work-related expenses), by income from property or capital and other sources, or with the help of those obliged to maintain him or her, by scholarship, by resources allocated to the foreigner from the educational organization or by funds in an account opened with a bank or a savings institution in the Republic of Slovenia or abroad. In accordance with the requirements of Directive (EU) 2016/801, the student must prove sufficient funds for the entire period of intended residence (i.e. for one year, if he is granted a residence permit for one year and the amount of funds must be provided monthly at least in the amount of the basic amount of the minimum income in the Republic of Slovenia). If the foreigner will show sufficient means of subsistence exclusively with funds in the bank account (i.e. he will not receive a scholarship or any additional funding with the other evidence referred to above), he must have on his bank account, at the time of issue of the temporary residence permit, funds sufficient for the entire intended stay in the Republic of Slovenia. If the student also provides proof of the other means of subsistence (e.g. proof of eligibility for a scholarship), then the
